

Global Web Artist

National Instruments, Austin, TX

6.08 to 12.09 Designed animated and static banners, microsites and graphics for international branch offices and localized existing media for international branch use. Most notably, designed and animated the company's first animated holiday ecard and localized for most international branches, tailoring the card to the specific needs of the branch (e.g., redesigning the card look and feel, animation and text for the Chinese branch's New Year) and formatting for distribution via direct mailers. I also designed NI's corporate citizenship site, its first online corporate brochure.
